Summer Design Workshop

In Partnership with The Corning Museum of Glass

Vignelli Summer Design Workshop 2023 Fellowship

This year, we're awarding a single space in the workshop to one graduating bachelors or masters student from RIT.

This is open to any student from any academic program on campus who demonstrates the most compelling case for their participation.

The Fellowship grant covers the $2,500 workshop fee and provides an additional $1,000 stipend to defray the costs of lodging and transportation during the workshop.

In addition, the Fellow will also receive the same benefits included in the program as the professional designers with whom they work alongside.

To be considered for this opportunity, please submit a portfolio, along with a letter of intent, detailing why you're interested in the fellowship, and how it could benefit your career.

For more information, please view the full workshop description and the videos from last year's workshop.
